

Alexandria Gazette.

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 6, 1900.

A Difference of Opinion.
The fat man is sure he has paid his fare to the conductor. He is positive on this point, because he had only a nickel, and it has passed from his possession.

The conductor is also positive, with no actual proof therefor, that the fat man has not contributed his mite to swell the coffers of the corporation. He demands the fare.

The fat man for obvious reasons refuses.

He announces in a blast of rage that he'll see the conductor and the corporation elsewhere before he yields.

The other passengers are wild with joy. They have no particular love for the corporation, they do not know the fat man, and if they met the conductor again they would not look at him. Passengers seldom do. They are loyal Americans.

Behind the fat man's underlying principle there is knowledge of a six mile walk, an angry wife, a cold supper and a neglected eucalyptus. He announces again that he will see the conductor elsewhere. He does.

He sees the conductor in the street. The fat man is with him in the gutter, his coat is torn and myriad packages are strewn over the field of battle.

The car and the conductor fade from sight, and the fat man gathers up his bundles for the six mile walk.

Will he sue the corporation for $500,000? He will not. He remembers that he spent the nickel for a Queen of the Backwoods cigar—Chicago Democrat.

Wisdom of the West.
"We find," said the foreman of the western jury, "that if, as the prisoner says, the shooting was accidental, then he ought to hang, for in these gun-fauna a man oughter know his own mind. It oughter be shoot to kill or no shoot. A man who has accidents happen to him with a gun is dangerous to our society an oughter be put out of the way for the safety of respectable folks."—Philadelphia North American.

Many Lives Saved.
In almost every neighborhood there is some one whose life has been saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, or who has been cured of chronic diarrhoea by the use of that medicine.
